

Demolition at Corktown early works site

Starting as early as March 7, 2022

What is happening?

Crews will remove existing structures from the future Corktown Station early works site to prepare for upcoming archaeological work, excavation and construction of the station building.

'Early works' are preliminary construction activities that will prepare the site for the future construction of Corktown Station.

Timing

- Scheduled start: March 7, 2022
- Duration: Six weeks
- Days: Weekdays (may be extended to include Saturdays)
- Hours: 7 a.m.- 6p.m.

What to expect

- Demolition work will begin with the removal of the Car Wash building on the south site at the early works construction site of the future Corktown Station (map above depicts north and south sites).
- Demolition work for the south site (car wash, Budget and Nissan dealership) is expected to take approximately six weeks.
- The work area will be inaccessible and protected by construction fencing to ensure the safety of the public.
- Residents and businesses near the work site can expect to hear noise caused by trucks, other construction equipment and demolition work.
- There will be noise monitoring stations both inside and outside of the site to monitor the noise level.
- Minimum impact on pedestrians, traffic or road access is expected. Covered walkways will be installed resulting in a brief disruption to the sidewalks while they are being put in place.
- Work may be delayed or rescheduled due to weather conditions or unforeseen circumstances.
- Additional early works construction details and timing will be shared as plans proceed.
