

Installation of temporary sidewalk overhead protection at Corktown early works site

Starting as early as April 19, 2022

What is happening?

Crews will be installing sidewalk overhead protection at the future Corktown Station early works site to prepare for upcoming demolition works.

'Early works' are preliminary construction activities that will prepare the site for the future construction of Corktown Station.

Timing

- Scheduled start: April 19, 2022
- Duration: Four days
- Days: Weekdays
- Hours: 7 a.m. - 6p.m.

What to expect

- As part of ongoing demolition works on the north site of the future Corktown Station, temporary sidewalk overhead protection will be installed at 250 Front Street East and 68-70 Parliament Street (map above depicts north and south sites).
- Pedestrian sidewalks will need to be temporarily closed so the sidewalk overhead protection can be installed.
- This will result in the closure of the curb lanes on Front Street East and Parliament Street so pedestrians can be safely diverted.
- Safety barricades and signage will be put in place to ensure pedestrian and vehicle safety.
- Work may be delayed or rescheduled due to weather conditions or unforeseen circumstances.
- Additional early works construction details and timing will be shared as plans proceed.
