

Two Way Traffic Modifications to James and Albert Street

Starting as early as Oct. 3, 2022

What is happening?

Crews will be conducting surface level street modifications that will facilitate the construction of Queen Station.

Timing

- Scheduled start: Oct 03, 2022
- Scheduled finish: Oct 23, 2022
- Days: Weekdays
- Hours: 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.

What to expect

- As part of the Advanced Works for Osgoode and Queen Stations, crews will be re-configuring the intersection of Albert Street and James Street. This work will turn Albert Street from one-way to two-way traffic.
- Crews will place new asphalt, make modifications to sidewalks at all corners of the intersection, remove some existing street signs, and reconfigure traffic lights at the intersection of Albert Street and Bay Street
- Parking on Albert Street will be removed to allow for two-way traffic.
- Pedestrians can expect sidewalk impacts. Pylons and barricades will be on site to help redirect pedestrian traffic.
- Vehicular traffic will be impeded due to curb lane restrictions. Construction signage will be on-site to assist with traffic flow.
- Noise can be expected as existing concrete sidewalks will be broken out and removed. Vibration can be expected when new asphalt is placed.
- Equipment left overnight will be fenced in to ensure safe storage.
